Area	Comment
Assessment of survivors' business performance (old cohort)	N/A
Assessment of survivors' business performance (new cohort)	The GEI interview guide for all the interviewees indicate that they managed to complete and follow their business plans.
Support for survivors from council	Council provides space for meetings particularly with GL trainings.
Support for survivors from other institutions	N/A
Examples of peer learning	Survivors are individually undertaking their business without seeking to learn from each other.
Effectiveness of mentorship	The follow-ups have been spatial.
Suggestions for next steps	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The women have skills and there is need to tap into those skills for the sustainability of the programme - The economic situation demands that GL/Council to fund participants' business ideas. It is a challenging undertaking to access loans due to lack of collateral. - Local authorities must be assisted in conducting resource mobilisation activities to fund the programme because they have financial challenges. Perpetrators of GBV must be incorporated into the programme so that they will also get training.

Progress on youth SRHR involvement discussed

Areas to cover
Self-assessment about accessing SRHR services at a local level
Level of awareness by local youth on COE health commitments	The council has an active junior council that is relatively new and is still to commence any activities. However the previous junior council held activities and campaigns around child abuse and sexual harassment.
How have youth implemented SRHR campaigns identified in the SRHR trainings?	Council has no SRHR action plan in place but is actively involved with Junior councils.
