

The manual is dedicated to Montgomery Cooper of the Rhodes University Photojournalism Department, who formed part of the original team that conceptualised this project, and who would have been one of its authors but for his untimely passing away in January 2003. We can think of no better way to honour Monty's commitment to photojournalism in the region than through this practical tool for promoting the fair representation and portrayal of women and men in the Southern African media.