

EVERY VOICE COUNTS

By Daniel Nkalamo

“Why am I here?”

Sarah Taylor from Namibia

“This is one of the platforms that allows us to share views on important issues affecting women and men in our countries in a positive way.”

Patrick Pillay from Seychelles

“I am here to support the newly formed GEM plus as their patron. I feel they have a lot of determination and get to feel what we are talking about at this Gender Summit.”

Mwiika Malindima from Zambia

“I have come to get information on this Gender Summit because back home, I am involved in gender and media training at ZAMCOM where I work. I feel this will open me up to so many possibilities.”

Mathaba Fanyani from Lesotho

“As a journalist, I feel we need journalists who understand gender issues very well.”

Pouba Essoo from Mauritius

“I am here because I am the project leader of the Audience Research Survey from Mauritius.”
