What is the GMBS

- The most extensive gender and media monitoring project- regionally, and globally.
- Twelve Southern African countries
- One month (September 2003). Global studies covered one day.
- 25 000 news items, compared to 16 000 in the global study conducted in 2000.
- Outputs: one regional overview; twelve country reports; training material

Objectives

- Baseline data for monitoring progress toward achieving gender balance in media coverage;
- Build capacity for monitoring media content from a gender perspective;
- Become a key advocacy tool

Partners

- Media Institute of Southern Africa (MISA)
- Gender Links
- 20 institutional partners in the 12 countries
- Media Monitoring Project (MMP) South Africa- technical advisers and SA report
- Margaret Gallagher- International adviser

Global Context

- 71 countries took part in the first GMMP before the Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing- 1995.
- 70 countries took part in the GMMP 2000 -“Who Makes the News”. The GMMP inspired the GMBS, but this spanned a whole month, rather than one day.
- Quantitative and qualitative findings.
- Slogan: “Women and men make the news”.

Media Monitored

- 117 out of the 340 print and electronic media in the 12 countries covered, or 34 percent of the media.
- 25 out of 80 media houses, or 31 % of the total
- A total of 25 110 news items; 8642 items, or 34 % of news items came from SA

Scope of Study

- The study focused on the news.
- It did not include entertainment and advertising.
- For radio and television, the study did not cover news feature programmes.
- These genres are important for future studies.
